

3 Room Family Dome Tent and 6 Person Family Tent Review

Wenzel are world renowned for their tents which they have been designing now for over 120 years. They have a superb and diverse range of tents featuring different styles to suit different families and types of vacation.

The Wenzel Grand Lodge is their largest, 8 person tent and is truly a grand structure. Providing over 160 sq.ft of usable space this tent has a two room layout.

Setting up is surprisingly simple and quick. One adult can manage without assistance. The tent walls can zip right down to leave a screen room, or closed up for privacy and warmth.

If it's an 8 person family tent you're after, take a serious look at the Wenzel Grand Lodge.

An excellent 3 room family dome tent is the Wenzel Sycamore. Three doors provide excellent access so no clambering over bodies or gear to get at things. The Wenzel Sycamore is a 3 room family dome tent

Setting up this tent really need 2 people but one of them can be a child over 4. In the main central room you can stand and each of the rooms is large enough for a full size queen air bed so you can divide your party to suit yourselves.

For a 3 room family tent this gets the best user reviews and highest ratings on all fronts.

For a 6 person family tent try the Wenzel Mackinac for features.

It has a full height screen room giving a huge and spacious area for bug free living whether you use it for cooking, playing or just chilling out.

To set up this tent takes 2 adults but it's not difficult. the walls of the screen room can be zipped closed for privacy and warmth or left open for full daylight and air flow.

Another 6 person family tent would be the Wenzel Cottonwood. This has a 2 room layout as well but no screen room. It's lighter at only 20lbs and so if you have teenagers you may perhaps split the load between you and trek with this one.
